Anti-Terror Bill passed in Parliament

New Delhi, Aug. 2 (UNI)- The Rajya Sabha this afternoon passed the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Amendment Bill that enables the Government to designate individuals as terrorists, even as the Opposition said it would infringe on the liberty of a person. The Bill was passed with 147 votes in favour and 42 against. Now it will become a Law after the President's assent.

Ahead of the voting, Home Minister Amit Shah attacked Congress for failing to act against terrorism during its reign. Yesterday, several Congress and DMK leaders staged a walkout after the Chair rejected their plea to discuss the Bill on Friday (today). The discussion on the Bill continued till 8 pm yesterday. The UAPA Bill was taken up by the Rajya Sabha just a week after it was passed by the Lok Sabha.

"Terrorism has no religion, terrorists are against humanity; all should support stringent laws against it," Amit Shah said.

Downplaying the Opposition's concerns that the amended law could be misused, the Home Minister said a four-level scrutiny has been provided in the amendment to ensure human rights are not violated.

"It is important to designate individuals as terrorists as they start new organisations once an outfit is banned," said Shah. The Rajya Sabha also rejected the Opposition-sponsored motion to send amendment to terror law to select committee.

"When we were in Opposition, we supported previous UAPA amendments, be it in 2004, 2008 or 2013 as we believe all should support tough measures against terror. We also believe that terror has no religion, it is against humanity," Amit Shah said.

"What happened during Emergency? All media was banned, all Opposition leaders were jailed. There was no democracy for 19 months, and you are accusing us of misusing laws? Kindly look at your past," Amit Shah said.

The UAPA Bill reflects the resolve of the BJP Government to crack down on terrorism and comes in the wake of increased crackdowns by the National Investigation Agency (NIA) against terrorist organisations.

The proposed amendments to the existing Act redefine "who may commit terrorism", establishing that under the Bill, the Centre may designate an organisation a terrorist organisation if it commits or participates in acts of terrorism, prepares for terrorism, promotes terrorism, or is otherwise involved in terrorism.

The 'burden of proof' in these cases will fall on the investigating agency, in this case the NIA. The Bill also paves the way for the NIA to seize property as part of investigation into terror cases. "If the investigation is conducted by an officer of NIA, the approval of the Director General of NIA would be required for seizure of such property," it says.

Tiger ! Tiger !!

Human being's hypocrisy has once again come into the open. "When a man wants to murder a tiger he calls it sport; when a tiger wants to murder him he calls it ferocity," says the British luminary George Bernard Shaw. In the debates on man-animal conflict, while the animal is portrayed as the villain, clarion calls are given to protect the dwindling species by caring for the upkeep of their reserves, admittedly a haven for the greedy poachers hunting the herbivores for meat as food and the carnivores for making a fast buck offering pelt, ivory, toe nails and other extracts to waiting agents outside the country.

The term forest is a misnomer for the space the speechless species have the right to claim as their natural habitat. Unless the principle of equal share for human beings to live and the rest of all life forms on Planet Earth is not accepted as proper, the logic behind prescribing one-third share for forest globally is suspect. Even granting that formula sourced to God-knows-who as appropriate, the current scenario of one-fifth for forest cover doesn't see the human beings in good light. Talking with a sense of regret about extinction of flora and fauna in large numbers year after year after being the agents for disaster, the perpetrators must feel ashamed.

Apart from mindlessly acting in a manner of spoiling the two most vital resources supporting life of all living beings, namely air and water, human beings, drawing heavily from the advances in science and technology, have created things of the kind and quantity in a long list, ending with pollution and garbage, forcing the animals to take the brunt of suffering for no fault of theirs.

If the role of the entire mass of animals, birds, insects, marine fauna, plants and even microbes, as the knowledgeable observers have elucidated, is infallible, then human beings have committed an unedifying harakiri by observing a special day for each of the species and not walking the talk as it were. The latest example of such act is the observance of World Tiger Day on Monday this week. In a mark of false sense of gratification, official sources have claimed that India is host to 75 % of the total tiger population across the world. Further, out of nearly 3,000 tigers in the country, determined through an annual census, Karnataka with 524 tigers trails Madhya Pradesh by just two of the species.

If the reported statement from some source that the number of tigers in the country can easily go up by another 1,000 before the next census is to be a reality, it behoves all stockholders and stakeholders to behave like animals themselves, not trading on others toes as it were.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

I want my hair to be long and shiny." That's a dream a majority of women share across the world. Besides hair growth, the number one concern women face is hair-fall. It is a demon that often gives them sleepless nights. Women try a variety of hair care products, such as oils, shampoos, serums, hair-masks and conditioners to combat hair-fall and make their dream of healthy hair come true. Yao women from the hinterlands of a South-Western Chinese village of Huangluo have a small secret to share for long, healthy hair. And the secret lies in these three magical words — Fermented rice water. Some of them have hair as long as 1.4 meters. They have been using fermented rice water to wash and nourish their hair for centuries. — In Business Standard

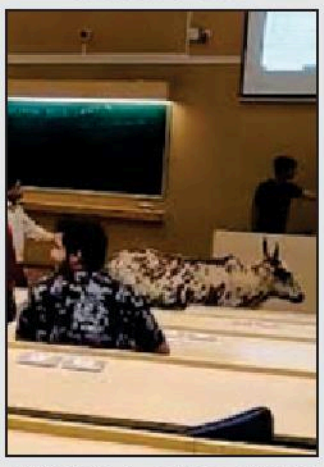
Man walks 800 kms backwards to meet President

Jakarta: A 43-year-old man named Medi Bastoni is walking backward some 800 kilometers from his village in East Java all the way to Jakarta to meet the President.

Bastoni set off from his home village of Dono, in East Java, on July 18 and hopes to reach the Presidential palace in Jakarta in time to celebrate Indonesia's 74th Independence Day on Aug. 17, alongside President Joko Widodo. The main goal of his unique endeavor is to ask Indonesia's President for a symbolic tree seed, to be planted in the forests on Mount Wills, near his village, to raise awareness about preserving the rainforest. He claims, activists are already fighting to preserve the environment, but a symbolic gesture by the President would boost their efforts even more.

Cow interrupts lesson in college classroom



Mumbai: A college student has captured video of a cow wandering through a classroom in the middle of a session.

The video, recorded at the Indian Institute of Technology's Bombay campus in Powai, shows the cow causing surprise and confusion among the students and their teacher when it walks into the lecture hall and strolls across the room. Students said the cow had apparently wandered into the building to escape heavy rains.

IIT officials said they are investigating the incident and looking into ways of keeping the numerous animals that live wild near the campus from wandering into buildings.

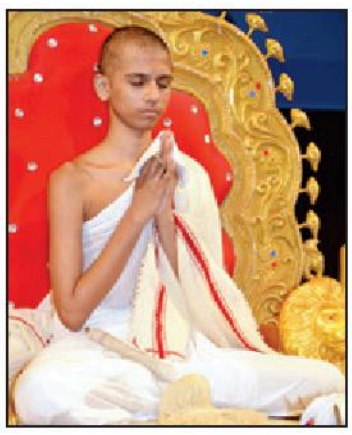
Jain Muni to perform 'Maha Sathavadhana' at Ganapathy Ashrama on Aug. 18



Mysuru, Aug. 2 (KS) - Sri Chandra Prabhachandra Sagarji from Baroda, a disciple of Munishri Ajitchandra Sagarji, will perform 'Maha Sathavadhana' at Sri Ganapathy Sachchidananda Ashrama on Nanjangud Road here on Aug. 18.

The event, to be held from 8.30 am under the aegis of Shree Saraswati Sadhana Research Foundation, has been organised by Shree Sumatinath Jain Swetambar Moorthypujak Sangha and Maha Sathavadhan Samithi.

The 22-year-old Monk had performed 'Shathavadhana' in Mumbai at Shri Shanmukhananda Hall on Sept. 14, 2014, when he was just 17-years-old.

Profile: Munishri Chandra Prabhachandra Sagarji was born in Baroda on Apr. 1, 1997 to Vipulbhai and Kuntalben and is their only child gifted with a sharp intellect and fiery thinking power. He studied in a convent up to 8th std. during which he experienced a very strong desire to understand and achieve the unseen, the invisible atmatatva and came in contact with Mahashatavadhani Munishri Ajitchandra Sagarji, who was the disciple of Naychandra Sagar Surishwarji Maharaj.

At the age of 13, he gave up the attachment with his family and his studies too. After taking permission from his family, he went to stay with his respected Gurudev and at the age of 15 he resolved to live the disciplined life. He thus came to be known as Muniraj Chandra Prabhachandra.

After adopting the disciplined way of life, through ceaseless practice of knowledge-dhyana-swadhyay-saadhana, he had in several ways, experienced his Atma and also could achieve mastery over a Siddhi of the level of Shatavdhan.

For more details about the Jain Muni's visit to Mysuru, contact Prakash Gulecha on Mob: 93434-99333 or 93421-00100.

No one actually knows how it started. But according to a legend, the tightrope walking tradition evolved as a way to expedite romantic encounters.

Landmark judgement by Karnataka HC

Wake up MCC

Sir,

It is heartening to note that the far cry of the citizens in respect of safe roads and footpaths have finally been heard! In a landmark judgement, the High Court of Karnataka declared that the right to have safe and good motorable roads and footpaths is a fundamental right of citizens under Article 21 of the Constitution of India (SOM dated Aug. 1)

It is important also to note that the victims can approach the High Court directly in order to claim compensation from the civic authorities for loss or damages incurred by them due to bad roads and footpaths.

It is hoped that at least now the civic authorities will rise to the occasion and maintain the roads, medians, pavements and footpaths in order to ensure safety and comforts of road-users and pedestrians. It is also necessary that the roads are free from free roaming cattle, as of late it is a dangerous menace in almost all the roads of our city.

A Sad and Needless Death !

I feel that in the sad and untimely death of V.G. Siddhartha, we have lost a very dignified and respectable man who was much loved and admired although sometimes also envied in plantation and industry circles. The circumstances leading to his premature death and the obvious and unseen forces behind it have all been the only topic of discussion across the country over the past three days. His family members and friends bemoan their loss and blame our banking and taxing system as the main cause for it while our bankers and tax collectors justify their seemingly stern stance as a part of their duty.

It is a different matter that we have all seen them adopting shamefully lenient and cowardly stances on many occasions before more powerful defaulters who have with a 'devil may care' attitude asked them to go to hell with their demand notices!

All people who knew Siddhartha and even those who did not, agree that we have lost a very good human being who had done much good to thousands of families across the country by creating jobs that suited their abilities and qualifications through the coffee plantations, coffee shops and software parks that he established. He was also seen as a man who was a very rare combination of two things that usually do not go together — inestimable wealth and utmost humility. Yes, that was his image in the hearts of all those who knew him as a person.

Though I did not know him personally, I cannot help feeling that with his exit we have lost an industry wizard who despite his phenomenal achievements had perhaps not yet shown us what else he had up his sleeve. I say this because even as his economic downfall began about two years ago, perhaps without him realising it, he was poised to take his performance to an altogether higher philanthropic level.

Among the many other plans and projects he had envisaged, he had performed the ground-breaking rituals of his fondest dream. The dream of giving a completely free, high-tech heart hospital to the people of Chikmagalur, the district had given him everything that he needed to grow up from being just the already rich son of a rich father into the business icon who completely transformed the face of the district.

While most people may say that Chikmagalur, the place from which I too have drawn every drop of my nourishment all the way up till I became a fully fledged doctor, is quite rich in every way, I beg to differ. I say this because while Chikmagalur may be rich in every other sense it still continues to remain one of the poorest and therefore one of the most backward places to live in simply because it does not have even the barest minimum medical facilities to treat any kind of heart problems. And, as all of us know, heart problems are the ones that give us very little or almost no time to stabilise a patient and treat him or her within what doctors call the 'golden hour' which can make the difference between life and death.

As a doctor I don't think I would be wrong if I shrunk this golden hour to a golden 'half hour' for heart attacks as this time-frame makes a much greater difference to the survival and useful recovery rate. Only when a very efficient cardiac team gets to work within this time-frame with clockwork coordination on a patient at a well-equipped cath-lab or cardiac operation theatre can we expect really good outcomes. In medical parlance, this is called the 'door to needle' time which refers to the time that elapses from the time the patient is seen and the time the intervention team gets to work.

The shorter this is the better are the chances of the patient surviving and also making a recovery that lets him or her lead a normal or near normal life. Any delay, even if it beats death may still lead to a loss of cardiac function due to greater death of cardiac muscle that may leave the person alive but still unable to manage life without much huffing and puffing. That is why we routinely see better outcomes for all cardiac events in our large cities with good treatment facilities as compared to smaller cities and towns that lack them.

It is a different matter that these days even in our large cities we may be losing more lives due to our high-tech ambulances being helplessly stuck in traffic jams!

As things stand today, in all cardiac emergencies, patients of Chikmagalur and the surrounding areas have to necessarily be shifted all the way to Mangaluru, Bengaluru or Mysuru for effective management which entails a very long drive and consequent delay much beyond many golden hours! I cannot help feeling that all this would perhaps have changed for the better if Siddhartha himself had survived his dejection and desperation at the hands of his own destiny!

Now, with him gone forever I fondly hope that someone in his team, who shares his unrealised dream, will think of fulfilling it to perpetuate his memory. I don't think there would be a better way of re-incarnating him and making him immortal! Do think about it !

POTHOLE VICTIMS

Welcome decision by HC

By K.B. Ganapathy,
Editor-in-Chief

Last evening I was delighted to read Star of Mysore because of its lead story titled "City Corporations must pay for pothole victims: HC." In jurisprudence, there is a legal principle which talks about crime and punishment. If a crime or a wrong is not punished, one will continue to commit the crime or function in a lacklustre manner.

Even in developing countries, pothole fixing and the open or covered shoulder channels of the road along with drainage (UGD) is attended to on emergency basis. To execute this kind of road works, they use special purpose equipment, including what can be called 'Baby Road Rollers.'

Even the concrete mixture is prepared on the spot by a special kind of machine that trails the Baby Road Roller. It was like quick fix. But there is quality in the work.

As far as cleaning the drains, one must see the operation to believe it. Not only they remove accumulated muck, they also fumigate with a special machine wherever they find it necessary.

In our city, even when such machines are procured at tax-payers' money it may or may not be used at all for whatever reason and then if you visited the MCC junk yard you would be heart-broken to see such a useful, effective and costly machines being destroyed as scrap. Once I asked a friendly Commissioner why our Pourakarmikas are not provided with proper work-man's dress — shoes, gloves, head-cover, mask etc. He said, "We do. But what can we do if they prefer to work with bare hands..." Remember, the donated Ambulances lying unused but parked in K.R. Hospital premises?

In the light of this, we should welcome the decision of the Karnataka High Court and hope the authorities will not go in appeal challenging the High Court's order which is the usual official approach to such adverse decisions touching upon the incompetence and dereliction of duty on the part of the City Corporations; here in Mysuru City Corporation (MCC).

CM holds meeting of all DCs and ZP CEOs

Reviews drought situation and water levels in reservoirs

Mysuru ZP CEO K. Jyothi and Chamarajanagar DC B.B. Cauvery are seen among others at the meeting chaired Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa in Bengaluru this morning.

Bengaluru, Aug. 2 (RK&VNS)- Just a week after assuming power as Chief Minister for the fourth time, B.S. Yediyurappa held his first meeting with Deputy Commissioners and ZP CEOs of all 30 districts in Karnataka at the Conference Hall in Vidhana Soudha here this morning.

CM Yediyurappa, who was in Andhra Pradesh on a temple run, returned from Hyderabad early this morning and held meeting to discuss various issues and progress of developmental works announced by the State Government under various Departments.

Deputy Commissioners and ZP CEOs provided detailed information about drought situation, measures taken to manage natural calamities, implementation of Jalamrutha project under the Rural Development and Panchayat Raj Department, progress of Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee scheme, Ayushman Bharat Arogya Karnataka Yojane, job mela initiated by Skill Development Centres, construction of houses under various housing schemes, plight of hostels and residential schools run by Social Welfare Department and implementation of Forest Rights Act.

Yediyurappa also reviewed the progress under the Nagarothana Scheme under which homes are constructed to people residing in urban areas. The meeting also discussed about redressal of 'Podi' issue and RTC corrections in the Revenue Department.

The Chief Minister also sought information about Fasal Bheema Yojana, crop survey and price survey. With the State not receiving rainfall as expected, the CM made sure he received information about water levels in various reservoirs across the State including inflow and outflow.

Dasara takes backseat amidst changed political equations

Mysuru, Aug. 2 (RK&DM)- With this year's Dasara less than two months away, there are no signs of preparations for the world famous event. With the 10-day Dasara festival scheduled to begin from Sept. 29, the District authorities are yet to hold preparatory meetings.

In the past, the Dasara High Power Committee meeting used to take place three months before Dasara, thus setting in motion for the grand festival. But this year, although the previous Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy had promised to hold the High Powered Committee meeting in the first week of July, the meeting did not happen due to sudden political developments.

However, Mysuru DC Abhiram G. Sankar held a meeting with local officials to receive inputs on the preparations to be made. But even as the DC was preparing to send a proposal on the celebrations, the JD(S)-Congress Coalition Government collapsed. Now with the BJP Government headed by B.S. Yediyurappa in place, authorities are hoping that the Committee will meet soon.

Added to this, MCC Commissioner Shilpa Nag has gone on a year-long child-care leave and the DC is focussing on drought management, implementation of Government schemes and other routine works. This too has made an impact on Dasara preparations.

Mayor Pushpalatha Jagannath said that the Dasara preparations received a setback due to sudden political developments that took place last month. Now with MUDA Commissioner P.S. Kantharaj taking additional charge as MCC Commissioner, she added that festival preparations will begin soon.

Mysuru DC meets CM

Soon after attending a meeting of Deputy Commissioners and ZP CEOs with Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa in Bengaluru this morning, Mysuru DC Abhiram G. Shankar personally met Yediyurappa to seek his appointment to call a meeting of Dasara High Power Committee.

The CM, who is also the Chairman of the Committee, will preside over the meeting to discuss the preparation for this year's Dasara celebrations. However, it is not known when the High Power Committee meeting will take place.

Periyapatna (Ramesh & VNS) -Adding to the growing list of selfie and TikTok deaths in Karnataka, a tourist from Tamil Nadu met a watery grave when he accidentally fell into a lake at Periyapatna yesterday. He was trying to take a selfie while he was on a boating ride at about 4.30 pm.

However, the boating activities at the centre were stopped 15 days back owing to losses. Later, the tourists were brought to the boating centre by Diju and Siju, said to be tour operators and the tourists entered the lake when the incident occured.

Authorities have pressed in specialist divers to search for Karthik's body. Bettadapura Sub Inspector M. Lokesh, ASI Jagadish, Fire Station Officer Venkatesh were overseeing the search operations. Will celebrate Tipu Jayanti in grand manner: Tanveer Sait

Mysuru, Aug.2- N.R. Congress MLA Tanveer Sait has said that Tipu Jayanti will be celebrated in a grand manner.

Speaking to press persons here yesterday, Tanveer Sait, who is also the Chairman of Hazarath Tipu Sultan Saheed Wakf Estate, said that the Wakf Estate was celebrating Tipu Jayanti since 29 years and this time too, the Jayanti will be celebrated in a grander manner as compared to last year.

Claiming that he was not surprised by the BJP Government's decision to cancel Tipu Jayanti celebration, Sait maintained that he had guessed that BJP would cancel the celebration.

Asserting that Tipu was a freedom fighter, Sait said that it was unfortunate that the BJP has politicised the issue.

Srirangapatna, Aug. 2 (Vinay Karekura&KS) - Villagers stopped a goods vehicle at Srirangapatna this morning. Th vehicle was transporting calves to slaughter houses at Arakalgud in Hassan district.

Disqualified MLAs move SC

New Delhi, Aug. 2- Maintaining that the then Karnataka Assembly Speaker K.R. Ramesh Kumar's order disqualifying them was wrong, arbitrary and malafide, 15 disqualified MLAs from Congress and JD(S) moved Supreme Court yesterday challenging the Speaker's decision.

In a joint petition, disqualified Congress MLAs Pratap Gouda Patil, B.C. Patil, Shivaram Hebbar, S.T. Somashekar, Byrathi Basavaraj and Munirathna contended that the Speaker's order passed on July 28 was wholly illegal, arbitrary and malafide.

Accusing the Speaker of arbitrarily rejecting their resignations, they contended that they had resigned on July 6, but the then Speaker Ramesh Kumar went on to disqualify them on the basis of 'a wholly misconceived' petition filed by the Congress party on July 10.

Three JD(S) members A.H. Vishwanath, K. Gopalaiah and K.C. Narayana Gowda also filed separate writ petitions questioning the validity of the Speaker's order to disqualify them.

Similarly, other disqualified Congress MLAs Roshan Baig, Anand Singh, MTB Nagaraj, Dr. K. Sudhakar, Shrimanth Patil and R. Shankar also urged the Court to quash the order passed by the then Speaker.

Two other rebel Congress legislators Ramesh Jharkiholi and Mahesh Kumatalli had also filed petitions against the order earlier.

Rail-Road Heritage Gallery for train travellers only

Public have to buy platform tickets to view the Gallery on Platform No. 1

Mysuru, Aug. 2 (MTY, DM & BCT)- The eye-catching Rail-Road Heritage Gallery at Platform No. 1 of the City Railway Station has come in for public criticism as it is not open for general public but meant exclusively for train passengers. If anyone wants to see the Heritage Gallery, they will have to buy platform tickets for Rs. 10 and go around the Gallery.

The Gallery was inaugurated last week and traces the evolution of Railways in Mysuru region through rare photographs from 1822 to 1950s and showcases the visits of dignitaries in yesteryears to Mysuru, including Mahatma Gandhi, former President Dr. S. Radhakrishnan, India's first Prime Minster Jawaharlal Nehru and also the current Prime Minister Narendra Modi with Train 18.

Rush for platform tickets

There is no entry fee and all passengers waiting in the Railway Station can have a glimpse of the unique Gallery. But here is a catch. The Gallery is not open for public. Criticising this, the public have expressed their displeasure. "If the Gallery is exclusive for passengers, then what is the use? It must be open to all. Now, we should buy platform tickets to view this Gallery. I dread to stand in the long queue to buy platform tickets to see the Gallery," said Rajendra, who is a regular at the Railway Station on some errand or the other.

Others said that people shy away from standing in a queue to buy tickets for famous Palaces and Art Galleries. "In this situation, who will buy platform tickets just to see the Rail-Road Heritage Gallery? The Railways must make the Station public-friendly and devise a mechanism for the public to see the Gallery," said a passenger. Not opening it for public defeats the whole purpose of the Gallery, he added.

Unique Gallery

The Gallery has depicted the diorama of rail-road featuring the iconic Mysuru Railway Station and other places of tourist importance and there is a section on Bollywood's romance with Railways where pictures of Bollywood celebrities from Dev Anand to Amitabh Bachchan to Shah Rukh Khan on trains have been captured. "The concept is good but it is sad that only train passengers have the exclusive rights to see the unique Gallery," said Pushpa, a resident of Gayathripuram.

Separate queue needed

The common public opinion is that a separate queue must be designated for the public to buy tickets for the Gallery instead of them crowding the platform ticket counter. "In addition to the perpetual heavy rush for regular tickets especially when a train is about to leave, it will be a nuisance if there are people in the line who just want to buy platform tickets to see the Gallery," said Ramakrishna, a resident of Yadavagiri.

He added that a separate gate outside the Railway Station entrance can be created and publicity material on the Gallery can be displayed so that whoever is interested in seeing the Gallery can purchase a platform ticket there itself and see the displays inside. This will avoid rush in ticket counters and also it will provide the public a chance to see the interesting Gallery. I am sure that this will be a huge hit during Dasara as the tourist flow to Mysuru is high, he said and suggested the Railways to install an automatic ticket vending machine.

Exclusivity of Gallery

Clarifying on the issue, Railway officials said that the Rail-Road Heritage Gallery at Platform 1 is only meant for Railway passengers who have brought travel tickets and are waiting for the departure or arrival of trains.

"Other public who are not train travellers must purchase platform tickets to see the Gallery. This is meant for passengers to spend their time in a meaningful way at Railway Station," said an official.

Highlighting that the Gallery is free for all train travellers, he said that the Gallery will be open between 9.30 am 2.30 pm on all days and a staff has been deputed to take care of the Gallery.

The official said that an 'Opinion Book' has been kept in the Gallery, in which public can write their opinion and also give suggestions which will be eventually looked into.

Rs. 535 crore required to repair damaged roads in Kodagu

CM asks Kodagu DC to prepare action plan so that works can be expedited

Bengaluru, Aug. 2 (KMS&BCT)-After sailing through the Floor Test in the Legislative Assembly on Monday, Karnataka Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa has got into action and on Tuesday, he held a meeting with officials and MLAs from Kodagu to discuss the status of relief works took by the previous coalition Government in the region. The meeting took stock of the present progress of the relief works and also looked into the measures to be taken for more relief.

Last August, unprecedented rains triggered by cloudbursts, floods and landslides brought untold misery to the people of Kodagu and over 30 percent of land in Madikeri and Somwarpet taluks was destroyed in previously unheard of havoc that was unleashed by nature, rendering hundreds of people homeless.

Many villages were wiped out by devastating floods and landslides and mud came crashing down carrying everything in its path — trees, electric poles and houses. Kodagu received over 200 mm rainfall on three consecutive days, on Aug. 15, 16 and 17, according to the Karnataka State Natural Disaster Monitoring Centre (KSNDMC). It was the highest amount of rainfall in Kodagu in 87 years and it forced thousands of people to take shelter in 55 relief camps and over 20 persons lost their lives.

Delay in relief measures

The coalition Government headed by H.D. Kumaraswamy launched relief and rescue measures and as part of rebuilding Kodagu, promised more than 800 houses for the homeless (whose houses and estates were washed away) to stay. The phase-by-phase mega rehabilitation housing project was taken up by the Government under the Rajiv Gandhi Rural Housing Corporation Ltd. (RGRHCL) and though the works began in full swing after months of delay, the projects are yet to be completed.

Following the delay, the Kumaraswamy Government was criticised for the slow pace of works and the two BJP MLAs from Kodagu Appachu Ranjan and K.G. Bopaiah blamed the lacunae in the administration. Now that the BJP Government has come to power, the MLAs, urged CM Yediyurappa to convene a meeting and look into the alleged lapse in providing relief and rehabilitation to the flood-hit.

CM's meeting

Chairing the meeting, CM Yediyurappa asked Kodagu Deputy Commissioner Annies Kanmani Joy to submit an action plan for rehabilitation and reconstruction. The District Administration had prepared an estimate of Rs. 535 crore for rebuilding.

The meeting was also attended by Bopaiah, Appachu Ranjan and senior officers. Discussions were held on the status of housing projects. Annies Kanmani Joy told the meeting that last year's calamity had damaged the district's basic infrastructure such as roads and buildings and the loss was estimated at Rs. 1,400 crore.

Rs. 535 crore needed

She told the CM that the Centre had released Rs. 58 crore towards the relief measures while the State Government gave Rs. 85 crore. "A sum of Rs. 535 crore was required for the repair of damaged stretches of National Highways, PWD roads and rural roads, and drainage works in Madikeri town," the DC told the meeting.

The CM told the DC to submit proposals listing out the works immediately for taking up reconstruction work. The DC told the meeting that 842 persons will get new houses at Made, Karnangeri and Madapura and the houses are being built by Rajiv Gandhi Housing Corporation Limited. Rupees 111 crore has been released for the purpose.

Infosys Foundation's 200 houses

A sum of Rs. 42.92 crore is required for providing basic amenities. Rajiv Gandhi Housing Corporation Managing Director Anbu Kumar, who was also present at the meeting, said the projects will be completed in the next three months and added that the Infosys Foundation is in the process of completing the promised 200 houses.

The CM asked officials to give permission for those who have come forward to build houses in their farms. About 83 people, who lost their homes, had sought permission from the District Administration for constructing houses in their fields and sought financial assistance as they would prefer staying near their estates and fields rather than staying in Government houses far away.

A sum of Rs. 9 lakh each had been sanctioned for building each house and 54 people had received the financial help so far. Yediyurappa asked the authorities to give assistance to the remaining people as well.

MLC Sunil Subramani, CM's Advisor M. Lakshminarayana, CM's Additional Chief Secretary Dr. E.V. Ramana Reddy, Additional Chief Secretary of Finance Department I.S.N. Prasad and other senior officers were present in the meeting.

Storage in KRS lowest in the last 45 years

Bengaluru, Aug. 2 (UNI)-The water level in all the four reservoirs in the Cauvery Basin in Karnataka is lowest since last four-and-a-half decades (45 years), according to the Department of Water Resources.

Official sources said that the water level in all the reservoirs in the Cauvery Basin, including Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS), Kabini, Harangi and Gorur stood at about 33 tmcft (thousand million cubic feet) which is the lowest in the last 45 years.

Stating that the present water level in all the four major reservoirs is not sufficient to supply drinking water to Bengaluru, Mysuru, Mandya and other towns and villages in the Cauvery Basin, sources said, "Only about 5 to 6 tmcft of water had been released to Tamil Nadu in July month, which is also the lowest."

Informing that the poor rains in the catchment area of the Cauvery Basin was the main reason for the low storage of water in dams, sources expressed concern that if the present low-yield of rainfall continues, it is very difficult to release water in the canal networks for irrigation in the coming days.

"The present storage of water could be reserved to release to meet the drinking water needs of the people of the Cauvery basin" the sources added.

Meanwhile, data accessed from India Meteorological Department (IMD) show that the State is reeling under 13 percent rainfall deficiency for the season that began on June 1. IMD scientists said that South Interior Karnataka, which includes districts such as Mysuru and Kodagu is the worst hit.

Scanty rainfall in Kodagu region is bad news for people living in Mysuru and Bengaluru as the hilly district is a major catchment area for Cauvery Basin reservoirs that provide drinking water. South Interior Karnataka is facing a rainfall deficiency of 23 percent.

Scientists from Karnataka State Natural Disaster Monitoring Centre said that agricultural activities in Kodagu, Mandya and Mysuru have been severely affected as there was hardly any rain in June, the time when ploughing and sowing starts.

"We hope the shortage will be met in the coming months as in the coming days, rainfall is expected to increase. Another important point to note is that the rainfall belt is shifting towards Central India now, which means the overall rain in Karnataka will reduce," scientists added.

Cauvery Authority asks Karnataka to release 9.19 tmcft of water to TN

Mandya MP Sumalatha counters Dayanidhi Maran's allegations

New Delhi, Aug. 2- The Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA) yesterday directed Karnataka to release 9.19 tmcft (thousand million cubic feet) of water to Tamil Nadu, which is suffering one of its worst dry spells and acute shortages of drinking water.

This was CWMA's fourth meeting since its formation in June last year and was held at New Delhi. During the meeting, the Tamil Nadu representatives highlighted the necessity of releasing 9.19 tmcft of water to the lower riparian States from Karnataka.

S.K. Prabhakar, Chief Engineer, Public Works Department, who is Tamil Nadu's representative for CWMA cited the upcoming Kuruvai cultivation period and the depleting water resources in the State. After hearing Tamil Nadu's contention, CWMA Chairman Masood Hussain ordered Karnataka to release 9.19 tmcft of water. "The Cauvery Water Management Authority has decided to release 9.19 tmcft of water by Karnataka from the Biligundlu site for June and July this year to Tamil Nadu, Kerala, and Puducherry UT," the Chairman said in his order. The authority in its meeting reviewed the hydro-meteorological situation in the Cauvery Basin during the current water year (2019-20) and it was noted that as per IMD (India Meteorological Department), the rainfall was deficient from June 1 to June 20, 2019 in the catchments of Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) and Kabini," the authority observed.

The CWMA said that the matter was discussed in detail and the authorities resolved that Karnataka should release water for the months of June and July. Reacting on the CWMA order, Chief Minister B.S. Yediyurappa said that water will only be released if there is sufficient water in the dams along the Cauvery Basin. "Farmers need not worry as their interests will be safeguarded," he said.

Sumalatha speaks for State

Meanwhile, Independent MP from Mandya, Sumalatha Ambarish countered the allegation by Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam MP Dayanidhi Maran in the Lok Sabha that Karnataka had been persistently violating the orders of the Cauvery Water Dispute Tribunal and the Supreme Court on releasing water to Tamil Nadu.

Maran called Karnataka a "habitual offender" and slammed it for not releasing adequate water to Tamil Nadu. He went on to say: "Karnataka is always in contempt of Court (by not releasing adequate water to TN).

Countering Maran, Sumalatha dismissed his allegation and said that Karnataka had always adhered to the orders of the Court although the State had never got justice on the issue of sharing water with Tamil Nadu. "I do not think that Karnataka has ever been in contempt of the Court orders and has always obeyed the Court orders. We have been peace loving and stood in cooperation with our neighbours always," she said.

Water to be released to Kabini canals from Aug. 5

Mysuru, Aug. 2- As per the decision of the Irrigation Advisory Committee, water will be released from Kabini Dam to Kabini Left and Right bank canals, Hullahalli and Rampura Canals from Aug. 5, according to the Superintending Engineer, Kabini and Varuna Canal Circle.

The water released to canals must be utilised only for drinking water and filling up water bodies. The Irrigation Department will not be responsible if farmers use the water for cultivating crops and other irrigation purposes, according to a release.

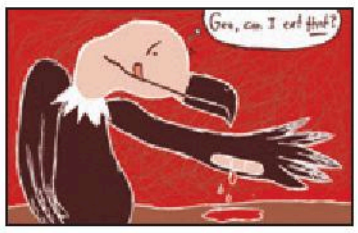
WORD OF THE DAY

Addlepated

Pronunciation: AD-ul-pay-tud.



Meaning: Being mixed up : confused; eccentric.

Origin: In Middle English an adel eye was a putrid egg. The stench of such an egg apparently affected the minds of some witty thinkers, who hatched a comparison between the diminished, unsound quality of an adel eye (or addle egg as it came to be called in modern English) and an empty, confused head—or pate. "Your owne imagination, which was no lesse Idle, then your head was addle all that day," wrote one 17th-century wit at play with the words idle and addle. Today, addle is often found in combination with words referring to one's noggin, as in addlepated, addlebrained, and addle-headed.

Example: Her addlepated mind flitted butterflylike from one often unrelated subject to another. — Tessa Harris, The Anatomist's Apprentice.

THE ODD WORD

Natiform

Something resembling a butt.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

A wolf in sheep's clothing

Meaning: 'A wolf in sheep's clothing' is someone who hides malicious intent under the guise of kindliness.

Origin: The cautionary advice that one cannot necessarily trust someone who appears kind and friendly has been with us for many centuries. Both Aesop's Fables and the Bible contain explicit references to wolves in sheep's clothing. On the face of it, Aesop must have originated the phrase as his tales are much older than any biblical text. The question is, when did the phrase first become part of the English language? The version of Aesop's Fables that is best known to us today is George Fyler Townsend's 1867 translation, in which he gives the Wolf in Sheep's Clothing fable this way:

Once upon a time a Wolf resolved to disguise his appearance in order to secure food more easily. Encased in the skin of a sheep, he pastured with the flock deceiving the shepherd by his costume. In the evening he was shut up by the shepherd in the fold; the gate was closed, and the entrance made thoroughly secure. But the shepherd, returning to the fold during the night to obtain meat for the next day, mistakenly caught up the Wolf instead of a sheep, and killed him instantly.
